Chapter-3 (Moral Science)

Q1. The story tells us that we all have equal rights but also equal responsibilities. Explain how.

Ans. The constitution of India gives equal rights to all citizens. This is a great achivement. We need to remove all inequalities based on caste, gender, region and social status from our land. We all are born equal in dignity and rights.

Q.2. Do you think Rathi got more satifaction from winning the argument about the pizza or from setting up the education project?

Ans. I think Rathi got more satisfaction from setting up the education project.

Q.3. Only four of the thirty children in the village school were girls. Can you explain why?

Ans. Because of early marriage, lack of funding. Too often marriage is seen as a higher priority than education. Girls often stay home to take of younger siblings. Most parents are unwilling to allow their daughters to go to school.